LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Friends,

YIVO is thriving. 2019 was another year of exciting growth. Work proceeded on schedule for the Edward Blank YIVO Vilna Online Collections and we anticipate completion of this landmark project in December 2021. Millions of pages of never-before-seen documents and rare or unique books have now been digitized and put online for researchers, teachers, and students around the world to read. The next important step in developing YIVO’s online capabilities is the creation of the Bruce and Francesca Cernia Slovin Online Museum of East European Jewish Life. The museum will launch early 2021. The first gallery, devoted to the autobiography of Beba Epstein, is currently being tested. Through the art of storytelling the museum will provide the historical context for the archive’s vast array of original documents, books, and other artifacts, with some materials being translated to English for the first time.

In 2019 we also initiated work on the 4th Shine Online Educational Series class on Jewish food. This entertaining and educational program will launch May 1 with an event at the National Museum of American History in Washington, D.C.

Other highlights include a fabulous segment on Mashable’s online “What’s in the Basement?” series; a New York Times feature article (June 25, 2019) on the acquisition of the archive of Nachman Blumenthal; a BuzzFeed Newsletter article (December 22, 2019) on Chanukah photos in the DP camps; and a New Yorker article (December 30, 2019) on YIVO’s Autobiographies.

YIVO is an exciting place to work, to study, to explore, and to reconnect with the great treasures of the Jewish heritage of Eastern Europe and Russia. Please come for a visit, sign up for a tour, or catch us online on our YouTube channel (@YIVOInstitute).

YIVO HONORS ROBERTA GROSSMAN AND SAMUEL KASSOW AT GALA DINNER

Over 150 people attended YIVO’s November 20th gala, honoring award-winning documentary filmmaker Roberta Grossman and leading Holocaust and Jewish history scholar Dr. Samuel Kassow. Ms. Grossman directed the acclaimed documentary film Who Will Write Our History based on the book of the same title by Dr. Kassow.

The documentary tells the story of the heroic efforts of Emanuel Ringelblum and his compatriots, to document in real time the daily life and struggles in the Warsaw Ghetto at great risk to their own lives. Nancy Spielberg, the Executive Producer of the film, served as Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

“Sam’s book and Roberta’s film provide an important service in educating the general public on a range of important historical issues, and as the Executive Producer of the film we have Nancy to thank for bringing this history to audiences around the world,” said YIVO Board Chair Ruth Levine.

As part of the gala, YIVO hosted a reverse auction, giving attendees an opportunity to bid on supporting YIVO initiatives: sponsoring a student in the Summer Program, sponsoring a Winter Program class, funding the digitization of rare books and periodicals in the library, and funding archival boxes. 56 bids were placed, raising an additional $86,400.

Amongst those in attendance at the event were Consul General of Israel in New York Dani Dayan, Acting General Consul of Lithuania Gitana Skripkaitė, American women’s rights attorney Gloria Allred, and Israeli-American economist and former vice chairman of the Federal Reserve Stanley Fischer.

NEW BOARD MEMBER: HARRY WAGNER

Born on Christmas Day, 1946, in the Heidenheim, Germany DP Camp, Harry is the son of Vilna-born Holocaust survivors, Rubin and Sima Wagner. His sister, grandparents, aunt, and uncle did not survive. Between them, Harry’s parents survived nine different German concentration camps before emigrating to the U.S. in 1949. His connection to YIVO was vividly formed in the early 1970s while helping his father create the two-volume memorial book, Vilna-in-Pictures. YIVO was a vital resource for these volumes. The Wagner Family has endowed and created the Rubin and Sima Wagner Gallery on the third floor at YIVO.

A graduate of Syracuse University and Brooklyn Law School, Harry has been a practicing attorney concentrating in banking, loan restructuring, real estate, and planning and zoning since 1972.

While visiting with his two children and three grandchildren in New York, Harry devotes time to charitable causes and religious organizations; President of Dix Hills Jewish Center, Dix Hills, NY; Co-chair of the Holocaust Committee of the Long Island Division of UJA-Federation of NY; and other UJA Committees; and, SHALVA (Israel).

500 BOOKS FROM CHAIM GRADE’S PERSONAL COLLECTION ADDED TO YIVO’S LIBRARY CATALOG

500 of approximately 20,000 books in Chaim Grade’s personal collection were brought to YIVO to create a Chaim Grade Memorial Library. This work was completed in the fall and the books were added to the YIVO Library catalog. The books were cataloged with special attention given to the peculiarities that made these copies unique to Grade. Topics range from Yiddish prose to Romantic era poetry, ancient Roman history to 20th century psychology, providing insight into the life and interests of Chaim and his wife Inna.

On September 19, YIVO Executive Director and CEO Jonathan Brent spoke at the exhibition, “Documents of the YIVO Archive,” in the Wroblewski Library of the Lithuanian Academy of Sciences in Vilnius, Lithuania. The exhibition featured YIVO materials that have been housed at the Wroblewski Library since 1948 and are being awarded and digitized as part of the Edward Blank YIVO Vilna Online Collections project. They were on public view for the first time since the end of World War II. This exhibition of YIVO materials represents a wide spectrum of topics, from medical records to pogroms in Ukraine to the record of YIVO documents turned over to Nazis.

NEW PRESIDENT OF LITHUANIA VISITS YIVO

On September 26, the newly elected President of the Republic of Lithuania, H.E. Gitanas Nauseda, and First Lady Diana Nausediene visited YIVO.

Their visit highlights the important ties between Lithuania and YIVO and acknowledges how Jewish history and culture shaped the identity of the countries of the world, including Lithuania. The President and First Lady viewed an array of materials from YIVO’s collections, including the Pinkas of Rabbi Elijah ben Solomon Zalman’s synagogue. Known as the Vilna Gaon, Rabbi Elijah was the most significant religious leader of his generation. This visit followed Mr. Brent receiving the Cross of the Knight of the Order for Merits to Lithuania in July, recognizing the cooperation between Lithuania and YIVO and the preservation of Lithuania’s prewar Jewish archives.

YIVO-BARD WINTER PROGRAM ON ASHKENAZI CIVILIZATION

Held annually in January since 2012, the YIVO-Bard Winter Program invites students to delve into Ashkenazi Jewish life and culture covering its thousand-year history in Eastern Europe and across the diaspora. Over 100 students attended the 2020 Winter Program, which featured courses taught by Jonathan Brent, Anita Norich, Elzbieta Janicka, Irena Klepfisz, Eddy Portnoy, Ron Robboy, Ilan Stavans, and Spencer Sunshine. The keynote lecture, given by Yevgenia M. Albats, discussed Jewish life in Russia today and the wave of Jewish emigration from the country.

Running concurrently with the Winter Program was YIVO’s new series of winter Yiddish courses. The Beginner Yiddish Intensive course was taught by Josh Price and the Advanced Yiddish Intensive course was taught by Dovid Braun. These were offered for the first time due to an increased demand for Yiddish language courses that YIVO has experienced over the last few years.

COOKING UP HISTORY: THE VILNA VEGETARIAN COOKBOOK
Our guest chef Joan Nathan is a renowned cookbook author and expert on Jewish foodways. During this demonstration, she will shed light on a largely unknown culinary educator and author, Fania Lewando, who lived in Vilna, Lithuania in the early 20th century. Lewando authored one of the first Jewish cookbooks dedicated to vegetarianism, The Vilna Vegetarian Cookbook (1938).

Join Joan Nathan and Smithsonian food historian Ashley Rose Young as they prepare dishes from Lewando’s cookbook and explore the history of Vilna, the devastating impacts of the Holocaust on the city’s Jewish population, and one woman’s efforts to sustain her community through food.

This cooking demonstration is held in partnership with the YIVO Institute for Jewish Research.

YIVO JOINS CARNEGIE HALL IN CELEBRATING THE 250TH ANNIVERSARY OF BEETHOVEN’S BIRTH
BY ALEX WEISER, DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC PROGRAMS

Beethoven was born on December 17, 1770. To celebrate the 250th anniversary of his birth Carnegie Hall is holding a festival from January-June 2020 including performances of all of his Symphonies, Piano Sonatas, and String Quartets. YIVO is one of ten partner organizations around New York City that Carnegie Hall invited to join their festival by hosting events of their own.

This invitation gave us at YIVO a wonderful opportunity to explore the Beethoven-related materials in our own collections. We have Yiddish translations and adaptations of Ode to Joy and other vocal works. We have beautifully illustrated Yiddish children’s books about Beethoven. We have Yiddish poetry about Beethoven. We have novels, travelogues, newspaper stories, even academic books about Beethoven – in Yiddish.

Beethoven also wrote works that took inspiration from Jewish sources. His song cycle An Die Ferne Geliebte sets to music poetry by German-Jewish poet Alois Isidor Jeitteles. Many also argue that Beethoven’s String Quartet Op. 131 uses a melodic motif from a traditional Kol Nidre recitation melody.

Join us on April 20 (SEE LISTING ON PAGE 3) for an evening celebrating Beethoven in the Yiddish imagination including performances of these works, a bilingual reading of a Yiddish story about the Moonlight Sonata, and, of course, Ode to Joy in Yiddish translation. Performances feature Allen Lewis Rickman, Yelena Shmulenson, Mario Diaz-Moresco, Spencer Myer, and the Ulysses Quartet.

RECREATING IMAGES OF THE BREST Ghetto

Some donations to the YIVO Library strike a chord by their moral idea and unique concept. This was the case with Vladimir Gubenko’s Brest of My Memory: 30s-60s of the XX Century: Author’s Memoirs and Drawings (Brest, Belarus, 2019. In Russian and English). The book, with its 200 drawings, demonstrates the phenomenal memory of the author, now in his late 80s, who is not Jewish and was a child in the 1940s. His images of the Varburg Jewish neighborhood and the ghetto during WWII are particularly impressive in their details and in his compassionate approach. Gubenko drew with pencil while capturing his non-Jewish friends’ recollections of the ghetto’s destruction. The amateur artist—a physicist by profession—so sharply remembered every building and tree on the streets of his native Brest, that he could easily place the events into the environment of the town. According to Mr. Gubenko’s daughter, Natalie Levine, who donated the book, her father’s drawings often look like scrolls. After finishing one page, he would proceed to the next, and the stories would unveil.

NOAMI LEAF HALPERN AND THE HISTORY OF JEWISH DANCE

The field of Jewish dance history received a major boost with YIVO’s acquisition of the collection of Noami Aleh-Leaf Halpern, whose dance career spanned seven decades. 15 boxes of dance programs, handbills, itineraries, clippings, photographs, correspondence, publications, costumes, and artwork from the 1920s-2014 are being accessioned, with more on the way.

Born in Jerusalem in 1914, Noami came to America as a child with her parents, Reuven Leaf of the Bezalel Institute and Sarah Kantorowitz, a weaver and seamstress. She danced at the Farband’s summer Camp Kindervelt, where her father taught art. She studied with choreographer Michel Fokine and performed in Ziegfeld Follies in 1934. A return to Palestine in 1935 inspired her life’s work interpreting Jewish and Near Eastern dance traditions.

During the 1930s-50s, Leaf Halpern toured France, Luxembourg, Belgium Lithuania, Latvia, Poland, Israel, Mexico, Cuba, and the U.S. Among her memorabilia is a pristine Yiddish-Flemish program for her January 1938 Antwerp performance at an event promoting YIVO.

Leaf Halpern danced at Fred Berk’s Israeli Dance Festivals in the 1950s, founded and led the Boston-area Festival Dance Company in the 1960s, and became a pioneer within the sacred dance movement. She trained as a dance therapist, taught modern dance, and coached actors into her eighties. The collection will undoubtedly be a new, invaluable resource for exploring nearly a century of Jewish art and cultural life.

THE CHALLENGES OF MULTICULTURALISM IN CONTEMPORARY LITHUANIA

(SEPTMBER 5) Under the auspices of Litvak Days NYC, YIVO celebrated Lithuanian Jewish heritage with a talk by Professor Tomas Venclova (Yale University, Emeritus). He was then joined by Jonathan Brent (YIVO’s Executive Director), Mindaugas Kvietkauskas (Minister of Culture of Lithuania), Professor Saulius Suziedelis (Millersville University, Emeritus) and Rabbi Andrew Baker (American Jewish Committee, Director of International Jewish Affairs) to discuss the challenges of rebuilding a multicultural society in contemporary Lithuania, confronting the complexities of Lithuanian Jewish history, and taking lessons from it for today. Over 250 people attended.

BUNDISM’S INFLUENCE TODAY

(SEPTMBER 16) We are witnessing a revival of the ideas of the socialist party the Jewish Labor Bund, a powerful force in Russian and Polish Jewish communities in the first half of the 20th century. Historian Jack Jacobs led a panel with Molly Crabapple, Irena Klepfisz, Jenny Romaine, and Jacob Plitman, activists and cultural workers ranging from their 20s to their 80s. The panelists discussed what they see in Bundist ideas and how those ideas affect their political and cultural practices and influence the Jewish community today. Nearly 450 people of all ages attended; over 1,000 more watched online.

THE BOOK SMUGGLERS [YIVO UK]

(SEPTMBER 19) The first of several events hosted by YIVO UK this past fall, the book talk for David Fishman’s The Book Smugglers: Partisans, Poets, and the Race to Save Jewish Treasures from the Nazis attracted a full house. This book tells the incredible story of the Paper Brigade, the courageous Jews who risked their lives to rescue thousands of rare books and manuscripts—first from the Nazis and then from the Soviets—by hiding them on their bodies, burying them in bunkers in the Vilna Ghetto, and smuggling them across borders. YIVO UK Board Member Lady Hilary Pomeroy gave opening remarks, followed by a talk by author and scholar David Fishman, who discussed his book as well as how the work to rescue Jewish culture and heritage from oblivion continues to this very day at YIVO.

ANTISEMITISM AND THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION

(NOBERM 11) Over 200 people attended this talk by Brendan McGeever on his new book, Antisemitism and the Russian Revolution. McGeever’s book offers the first book-length analysis of the Bolshevik response to antisemitism. Jack Jacobs introduced the evening, followed by a presentation by McGeever. McGeever and Jacobs were then joined by Andrew Sloin, Polly Zavadivker, and YIVO’s Jonathan Brent for a panel discussion.

ABOUT YIVO
The YIVO Institute for Jewish Research is dedicated to the preservation and study of the history and culture of East European Jewry worldwide. For nearly a century, YIVO has pioneered new forms of Jewish scholarship, research, education, and cultural expression. Our public programs and exhibitions, as well as online and on-site courses, extend our global outreach and enable us to share our vast resources. The YIVO Archives contains more than 23 million original items and YIVO’s Library has over 400,000 volumes—the single largest resource for such study in the world.
